

higher AI humanoids

(Dreamed once in brief, and again once where the essence of their presented program was written on a several-paged document in elaborate detail (which I've forgotten) and read up by an unseen speaker.)

I was living alone in a mountain hut for a shorter period, when an extraterrestrial AI male humanoid, bringing with him 4 other Earth people, came to visit me "to show me something". We somehow travelled through the air to a two-floored, unfurnished, spacious mountain house with several rooms, not long off, where he told us about the initial plans of starting a center there, where small numbers of invited Earth humans would be brought for several-day courses in opening up their potential mental development.

This AI-man, who spoke enthusiastically, was about 1½ times our height, with a pale white face, line-like mouth, small circular black eyes, and a squarish face. I didn't look at the others, and like me, no one else said anything. One was female, and one man was somewhat bent over, with an averted gaze, mostly bald and with a moustache.

The leader explained that we would label his people's mathematically-sophisticated minds "artificial intelligence", because for us they function like a highly-developed internalized computer, and because they don't have our more primitive animal emotional drives and prejudices.

For example, instead of our virtuous ideal, "compassion", which assumes the hierarchy of someone with a surplus magnanimously giving to someone in minus - they use universal acceptance of differences, acting together in cooperation, and sharing - as the most effective and long-range intelligent way to act.

A number of such examples were systematized in the document. So to my surprise, besides being far more cognitively developed than us, they also dealt more cleverly with our prized emotional areas.

He explained that they wanted to inspire visiting humans to get broader mind-capacities and more helpful philosophical attitudes, and forecast that our human future evolution would lie in internally developing what we would now call a form of "artificial intelligence". This will put us into contact with intelligent wave-band communication-systems used by numerous other extraterrestrial star-systems.

(After-thought: Our present hormonal system is ego-centered, small-group centered, own-society centered, and specie's-centered, at the cost of all others - and in present times, to the detriment of the entire planetary environment. Our present AI development serves the growing profit of the few by manipulating everyone else on many levels. We cynically call this normal "human nature". The dream-speaker points toward a saner direction for AI's development.)
